Huge Crowd Visits Here On Weekend

A record-breaking crowd visited the Peninsula, and particularly Carmel, over the Labor Day weekend and hotels, guest cottages and even private homes were filled to capacity with visitors here from virtually every state in the union, as well as from many foreign countries.

Carmel Chief of Police Roy Frates said that while it was probably the largest weekend crowd the Village has ever seen, it was an orderly invasion. Saturday and Sunday were very quiet, and the few cases the police department handled were done with quiet efficiency on the part of the force.

The beach was jam-packed each day, fortunately, there were no disasters as thousands of people took advantage of the unusually warm weather to cool off in the Pacific.

On the other hand, one of the worst automobile accidents in this section in many months occurred late Sunday night on the Cachagua Grade, when three persons died when a sedan hurtled down a steep embankment. They were: Mrs. Roy Arneson, 34; Walter Ryan, 51, her brother, and Patrick Arneson, her four-year-old son.

Three other Arneson children, and the dead woman's husband, survived the disaster. The family, from Marina, was en route to the upper Valley area for a Labor Day holiday.

Golf Tournament Begins On Monday

Thousands of sports enthusiasts are expected to be on hand next week to watch the National Amateur golf tourney at Pebble Beach, which will draw top flight golfers from all parts of the United States and its territories. Many of the entrants are now on hand at the local courses and are shooting their practice rounds.

Among those who have been seen this week are: Ted Bishop, last year's finalist; Arthur Armstrong, Honolulu; Richard Chapman, New York, and Ernie Peiper, California, who was runner-up in the 1946 state tournament.

Tickets are now on sale for the event and they will be $2.50 for the Monday through Thursday matches, and $3.50 for the Friday and Saturday contests, which will include the semi-finals and finals. Season tickets, which include the gate entry fee through the Del Monte Forest, are selling for $11.50. Tickets may be purchased at Del Monte Lodge, Monterey Peninsula Country Club, Earl Glennon's sports store in Carmel, and Rasmussen's and Moody's in Monterey.

P. O. HELP WANTED

Postmaster Ernest Bixler announced this week that there are positions now open at the Carmel Post Office. Veterans will be given preference for the jobs. At present, they are not civil service, but examinations for eligibility will be given later in the year for those who wish to qualify. Those interested are asked to contact Mr. Bixler.

Early-Day Local Painting, Missing For 100 Years, May Once Again Be Seen At The Carmel Mission

BY CAROL CARD

Just inside the visitors' entrance at Carmel Mission hangs a picture of the reception of the French explorer, La Perouse, at this mission in September, 1786. It is a photographic copy of the original drawing, which is now in Spain. Since it is by no means impressive either in size or in artistic quality, and is just one among many pictures in the room, the majority of visitors barely notice it. Yet this stiff, naive little sketch is one of the most interesting and unique of the many things in the museum collection, and deserves our respectful attention for a number of reasons. It is the oldest view of our local landscape. It is our only picture of the straw-thatched adobe church which was replaced during the following decade by the present stone structure. And it is the earliest non-Indian work of art produced in California of which we have any record.

The scene depicted is that which La Perouse himself describes in his "Voyage Round the World" when he tells of his visit to Mission San Carlos: "After crossing a small plain, covered with herds of cattle... we ascended the hills, from whence we heard the sound of bells announcing our arrival, of which the missionaries had been previously informed by a horseman from the governor. We were received like the lords of manors when they first take possession of their estates. The president of the missions, in his ceremonial habiliments and with his holy-water sprinkle in his hand awaited us at the gate of the church, which was illuminated in the same manner as on the greatest festivals. He conducted us to the foot of the high altar, where he chanted the Te Deum in thanksgiving for the happy success of our voyage."

"Before we entered the church, we had passed through a square in which the Indians of both sexes were ranged in a line. They exhibited no marks of surprise in their countenance, and left us in doubt whether we should be the subject of their conversation for (Continued on page Six)

Classes For Local Dogs To Be Held At Mission Ranch

Entries for the Del Monte Kennel Club All Breed Dog Show, to be held September 21 at Mission Ranch, close next Sunday, September 7, it was announced this week by Marion Kingsland, club secretary.

An innovation in the show this year will be classes for local dogs only, which will give inexperienced owners and their animals valuable experience in show technique. This means that local dogs compete only with other local dogs. If he wins best of breed, he goes to compete in best in group and so on to the final best in show class. While in this group he does not compete for championship points, it gives the owner the opportunity to determine how he stacks up with champions in his breed.

It was also pointed out by Miss Kingsland that a dog does not have to be registered with the American Kennel Club to be eligible to show, but that he has to be a purebred. When he is shown in a registered show three times, he is then eligible for registration with the AKC. Spayed bitches are not eligible for show.

Further information regarding the show may be obtained at Jezebel's Dog House on San Carlos, or by calling Miss Kingsland at Carmel 1443-W.

Many of the outstanding dogs of the west will be shown at the Mission Ranch. Judging will be continuous from 9:30 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Dr. Henry Hart, Famed Lecturer And Writer On Oriental Subjects, Visits Here Before Leaving On Tour Of U. S.

A giant of a man in a pale blue shirt, open at the throat, went dashing around to the book stores last week, trying to unearth first editions to add to his collection of 5000 volumes pertaining to Chinese art and literature. He was the dark, curly-haired, sharp-eyed Dr. Henry H. Hart, the world renowned orientalist and lecturer on literature, who was in Carmel with his wife to celebrate their sixth wedding anniversary. While his wife sang off the items she must remember to pack in the picnic basket for the next day, Dr. Hart quoted old Chinese poetry about the Yan and the Yin, both of them aware that they were "eating white bread," as the legend goes, for they were both at the peak of complacency.

Only last week Dr. Hart received his latest of many decorations, this time active membership in the Geographical Society of Lisbon. He is of course Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, London, Officer of the Academie Francaise, and of many other learned societies. He has been a member of the California State Bar Association since 1909, when he earned his J.D. at the University of California, and indeed he practised law in San Francisco for a decade, being assistant city attorney there for seven years, before he found use for his great aptitude for languages and world travel.

Since Dr. Hart speaks 16 languages he had a peculiarly felicitous time for himself in all the countries of the Orient and Europe from 1919 to 1939, as well as in South America and Africa. During short visits to his own home he enjoyed his personal library of 17,000 volumes on art and literature, and published seven of his own books: A Chinese Market, The Hundred Names, The West Chamber, Seven Hundred Chinese Proverbs, What Europe Knew of China Three Hundred Years Ago, A Garden of Peonies, Venetian Advent- (Continued on Page Seven)

Forest Theater Long-Term Lease Rejected By City

The request by Mrs. Norma McHardy for a thirteen-and-a-half month's lease on the Forest Theater, deferred by the Carmel City Council from the August meeting, was unanimously rejected at Wednesday night's regular session.

The rejection was based upon the fact that the theater is primarily for the use of local groups and not for outside or stock companies, and entering into such a lease would prevent local dramatic groups from use of the place during the summer months. It was also mentioned that it would be inadvisable for any group to attempt to stage plays during the winter months because of weather conditions, and that such an attempt would undoubtedly result in financial failure.

Mrs. McHardy had asked for the lease and had said that her group was to be called tentatively the Carmel Players. Objections at the last meeting to this name because of similarity with other Carmel dramatic groups were voiced. Complete rental for the lease was to have been $2700.

City Clerk Peter Mawdsley read letters from the Carmel Business Association, The Carmel Woman's Club and individual citizens objecting to such a lease, and councilmen present stated that they had received numerous phone calls to the same effect.

It was explained that while long-term leases would not be acceptable to the city, fixed dates (Continued on Page 18)

100 Carmel Vets Collect Cash

Close to 100 Carmel veterans cashed in their terminal leave bonds at the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank and the Bank of Carmel this week, through Wednesday, it was learned through a Pine Cone checkup. Total amount collected during that period was roughly $25,000.

As was the case in other parts of the country, many of the veterans planned to use the money for housing or to pay up debts, while others said they would use the cash for luxury items or for "just having a good time."

Because of the comparatively small number of applicants during the period this week for this section of the county, it is believed that the majority of local veterans would follow the Treasury Department's advice to keep the bonds for the full five-year period, thus taking advantage of the 2 1/2 percent interest.

GETTING AROUND THE PENINSULA

By GLENN CLAIRMONTE

Pt. Lobos Reserve was desecrated again last Saturday night, this time by five young men who ought to know better. At 11:30 p.m. a car belonging to C. M. Henderson of Monterey was driven into the grounds by Edward Ogden Hook of Monterey, with the following as his passengers: Joseph E. Passalacqua of San Jose, Baird M. Barbasson of Berkeley, Orley R. Holm of Carmel, and Louis H. Levinson, Jr., of Carmel. These young men removed a post at the entrance to the Reserve and drove the car beneath the chain placed there to block traffic for the night. Not content with this, they later removed a boulder at Cypress Grove and drove their car into another blocked area. They then wandered off and were not located until 10:30 the next morning.

Deputy Ranger John McKone first found the car and later interrogated the five men when they appeared at the scene late Sunday morning. While Jack Eaton, Deputy Sheriff of Carmel Highlands, was trying to trace the owner of the car, Mr. McKone reported the men had been found.

R. A. Wilson, Chief Ranger, charged them with illegal entry and they were arraigned in Justice Baugh's court, where they were fined $5 each.

Members of the Pt. Lobos League and of the Audubon Society have expressed their surprise at the low fines, in view of the fact that the offense is considered extremely serious by those who wish to preserve the natural resources.

Dick Collins of the Pebble Beach stables returned Wednesday from the Sacramento State Fair where he met the owners of many large stables and discussed their plans to enter the Horse Show of the Monterey County Fair the end of September. He says that arrangements are now being made to show about 200 horses in the following classes: fine harness, hackneys in harness, three-gaited horses, American saddle bred, five-gaited American saddle bred, jumpers, hunters, stock horses, local children's and family classes. "Many of the entries in the recent Tri-County Horse Show will turn out to compete in this show," he added.

The County Fair to be held September 25 to 28 in the Monterey County Fair Grounds has allotted the lathe house under the oak trees, a space of 50 feet by 75 feet, for the flower exhibit which is in the charge of Mrs. F. L. Knudsen of High Street, Monterey. The Oak Grove Nursery has agreed to arrange the centerpiece, while the DeMello, Bishop's, Sunset and Nan's Nurseries have made plans to contribute. Holman's and Mack's will cooperate in an exhibit, and Floyd C. Dillon, the landscape architect, is assisting. Miriam Birdseye of Carmel will install an herb garden. SOFTBALL SCHEDULE

Tonight—Carmel Girls vs. Watsonville Girls—7:00 p. m. Lions vs. Wilder and Jones—8:00 p. m.

WATSONVILLE-CARMEL GIRLS PLAY TONIGHT AT SUNSET

The fair sex take over softball activities at Sunset Field tonight when the Carmel lassies tangle with the visitors from Watsonville. Game time will be at 7:00 and an interesting game is assured, with the Lions vs Wilder and Jones taking the field at 8:00. With the help of Bonnie Giles and Kelly Taylor, the Carmel girls have shown signs of developing into astute performers on the diamond. Three practice sessions a week have paid dividends and the girls are no longer throwing and batting like girls. Performing for the local girls will be: Jerry Faye, Carol Petty, Bobby Sapsis, Joan Saunders, June Updike, Barbara Pullman, Carol Templeman, Caryl Hill, Carol Smith, "Rifle Arm" Douglas, and Ern Schmutz.

Watsonville boasts one of the finest teams in the area and holds victories over the strong Alisal and Castroville teams.

LEGION OUTLASTS WILDER & JONES TO WIN, 13 TO 10

In a game replete with base hits, walks, and stolen bases, the Kelsey-led Legion boys outlasted the W&J plumbars to cop the verdict by a 13-10 count. Neither pitcher, DeAmaral for the plumbars, and Kelsey for the vets, proved much of a problem for the hitters. The leak-stoppers combed DeAmaral's pitches for 17 blows, while the Legionnaires plastered 12 knocks in safe territory. Russ Bohlke and Howard Lockwood had perfect nights at the plate, with each hitting 4 for 4. Louie Saunders continued his power hitting by driving another one over San Carlos street. Pitchers are showing their respect for Louie's power by giving him an Annie Oakley whenever there are ducks on the pond.

Wilder & Jones appeared to have the game sewed up in the sixth frame, when they led the vets, 10 to 7. However, in the last of the sixth, the Legion exploded for 7 hits and 6 runs to put the game on ice.

LIONS CLUB BREAKS JINX; SPANK FACULTY, 3 TO 2

Spurred on to superhuman efforts by the peppy Lions Club band, the Lions Club softball ten put on their finest performance of the season to take a closely contested tussle from the tired Faculty. The clubmen, determined to break the two-year jinx which the Faculty held on them, took advantage of all their scoring opportunities and played flawless ball in the field. Kelly Taylor, patrolling the left garden, put the damper on the Faculty starboard swingers by hauling down everything hit to the left side. Al Fry and Mike Balazs sparked the Lion infield by turning in several sparkling fielding plays. Paul Clemens, peer of the Adult League pitchers, was in superb form and held the hard-hitting Faculty scoreless until the final frame. With an apparently safe three run lead, Paul eased up a bit in the 7th inning and the pedagogues put together two walks and a base hit to tally their two markers. "Bugs" Dawson, Faculty ace chucker, pitched his usual brilliant game but the inspired play of the Lions was too much for him and his mates to overcome. Ed Harget, instructor in real estate techniques, was the leading bat wielder for the knowledge dispensers, collecting 2 blows in 3 tries.

The Lions Club deserved to win the championship and are to be congratulated on their high caliber play and excellent sportsmanship. They fielded a well coordinated softball team for all their contests and played out the string whether behind or ahead. Cliff Cook, hard-hitting fielder, was at the helm of the champs and his set of strict training regulations insured him of a team that was in first class physical condition. Players representing the CHAMPS were: Waldo Hicks, Paul Clemens, Jack Giles, Jack Whitesides, Mike Balazs, Al Fry, Kelly Taylor, Ed Graalfs, Kenneth Omer, Bob Martin, Reed Freeman, and Joe Nicholson.

The final Adult League game will be played when the Lions meet Wilder and Jones tonight at 8:00 p.m.

Many hours of fun were enjoyed in the Adult League this season, and next year (the Lions aren't getting any younger) perhaps a new champion will be crowned.

SEASON RECORD OF 26 WINS AND 10 LOSSES

The Carmel Pine Cone softball nine wound up another successful season of softball play last Wednesday night when they outlasted the Alisal club to cop an 8-7 verdict. The Alisal lads were a willing band of pastimers and kept hustling even when they were 8 runs in the ruck. Jack Giles got the locals off winging in the first canto, when he scored following a perfect bunt by Ky Miyamoto. In a big second frame the locals racked up 6 counters on 4 solid blows, one a triple by Gordy Miyamoto.

Jack Giles, Lions Club pledge, relieved Ky in the 7th inning and the visitors greeted him like a long lost cousin. Before the whirlwind subsided, Alisal had 7 markers on the scoreboard and the winning run on base. Moore, Alisal pitcher, picked out on of Giles' gopher balls and poked it deep over the left field barricade for a home run. Jack claimed his support was a bit faulty and not up to the high caliber exhibited by the Lions Club fielders.

Following this game the Pine Cone flannels will go in moth balls until the first of May 1948, when preparation for another season of fun and entertainment will get underway.

HIGH SCHOOL GRIDDERS WORK OUT KINKS AT SUNSET FIELD

After a vacation period of comparative inactivity, the Carmel High School football aspirants have been assembling at Sunset Field for tri-weekly loosening up drills. Other schools in the league have a slight advantage over the Padres in that they started classes September 2nd, while the Carmel schools do not open until September 10th. After observing the boys working out at Sunset, it appears that the Padres will be lighter than last year, but faster and more experienced. There will be 8 varsity award-winners ready to add their voice of experience to the neophytes who are making their debut in football. Last year's big C winners are: Owen Greenan, all-league end, Newt Goodrich, a versatile lineman, Rod Dewar, all-league guard, Art Harber, who graduated from the limits to the varsity, Bill Hodgson, watch-charm. Famed Negro Scientist Is Subject Of Talk

George Washington Carver, the great Negro scientist, as presented in the biography by Rackham Holt, was the subject of a review given by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, pastor, for the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer on Tuesday afternoon. From his great manual dexterity which enabled him to copy readily the most intricate patterns of knitting or crochet, through the most exacting demands of fine cookery, into the delicate scientific requirements of the biological laboratory, the speaker followed Dr. Carver's career to its culmination as the greatest benefactor of the southern farmers, white no less than black, through his development of more than a hundred valuable products from the peanut and other crops of the South. His ability to impress and win approval from the most skeptical white men was demonstrated when a tired and bored Congressional committee allowed him ten minutes to show the needs and opportunities for the South, and then kept him talking and exhibiting his products for almost two hours. His fine sensitive nature coupled with a devotion to the great need of leadership and help for the southern farmers enabled him to endure slights and to overcome great obstacles in his field.

The business meeting which followed Dr. Gray's review was conducted by the new president, Mrs. Carmalita Benson. Mrs. Edith Catlin reported on the summer leper work, as the chairman, Mrs. Ada McGee, was absent. Six meetings totaled 95 attendance, with many small garments made for children in leper families, in addition to bandages made. Mrs. Edna Benson announced the meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Council of Church Women at Seaside Methodist Church today beginning at 12:15. She also announced the national call by the C.C.W. for clothing outfits and school kits for European children from six to twelve years old. Mrs. Louise Grigsy announced the meeting of the Carmel Missionary Society for September 23 in the Church of the Wayfarer. Mrs. Gray announced the reception to be given by the church for Bishop James C. Baker at the home of Mrs. T. F. Baxter next Friday evening. Mrs. Blanchard Steeves closed the meeting with the devotions.

At 10:30 in the morning ten members met to work on the leper bandages and small garments; and were joined at noon by an equal number for a box lunch, while others came at 1:30 for the program and business meeting. —L.L.T.

Gray Lady Corps Needs New Members To Help At Ford Ord

With the increasing personnel at Fort Ord, the need for augmenting the Gray Lady Corps of the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross becomes more necessary weekly. The present Gray Lady Corps is giving unstintingly of its time and energy carrying out the prescribed program of Gray Lady service as outlined by the National Red Cross.

Plans are now under way for a new training class to be held in the fall. Miss Elizabeth Ridley, Assistant Field Director at Fort Ord Hospital suggests that possible applicants for this course call at the local Red Cross office and obtain application forms, specifying the requirements as to age, health, etc. which are mandatory under the National Red Cross program. These forms may be studied at leisure and those interested will be asked to meet with Mrs. Jarvis, Gray Lady Chairman at Chapter headquarters on the morning of September 16, for a personal interview, later in the day applicants will be interviewed by Miss Ridley at Fort Ord. The new course will follow the prescribed lectures which will be held September 22-24-26. After this twenty-four hours intensive probation is required before the certificates are given. After acceptance into the Corps, fifty hours of service will be required for continued membership.

The last training course for the Gray Lady corps was given in December 1946. At that time six new members were "capped" at an impressive ceremony. Fifteen Carmel women constitute the present active group; Chairman, Mrs. C. S. F. Jarvis, Mrs. David Alberto, Mrs. James A. Dempsey, Mrs. Peggy N. Dyer, Mrs. R. L. Grabill, Mrs. J. J. Harrington, Miss Patricia S. McKee, Mrs. Charles R. Sargent, Miss Elizabeth Singleton, Mrs. Isabel H. Terhune, Mrs. Russell Townsend, Mrs. Elizabeth Whiting, Mrs. Paul Whitman, Mrs. H. M. White, and Miss Jane Burritt. These ladies alternate in service and meet twice weekly at Red Cross headquarters and garbed in their attractive gray and white uniforms are driven by volunteer workers to Fort Ord hospital. They take with them current issues of magazines and bedside bouquets of flowers and spend several hours with the men in the wards.

This great work is being carried on in all the military hospitals in the United States. Among the services given by the Gray Ladies, is the writing of letters, reading, shopping and diversional craft for those patients who must remain in bed. One of the outstanding duties is the teaching of handicraft of various kinds for the ambulatory patients. This is done in the Red Cross Arts and Crafts shop. Outings are planned and the Gray Ladies act as hostesses for parties.

Colonel H. B. Gantt, Commanding Officer at Fort Ord Hospital, is generous in his praise of the work accomplished by the Gray Ladies, he hopes that the number of volunteers will increase and that the work will continue. Mrs. A. M. Allen, Chapter Chairman urges that all those who served in the early days of the war or in other communities and are now inactive rejoin the group.

—Sarah Elizabeth Ridley.

The Naval Reserve Organized Division 1223, which draws membership from Salinas, Castroville, Gonzales and the Monterey Peninsula, is on a big recruiting drive this week, because it is essential that they fulfill their complement by September 15. In order to do this they must enlist 30 young men who have never been in the Navy before and who are interested in learning a new trade. Next Tuesday, September 9, Admission Day, at 7:30 p.m., they will hold Open House in the Armory at Monterey Coast Guard Base, which will hereafter be used as the regular meeting place and training quarters. Both men and women visitors will be given demonstrations of the training apparatus just received from San Francisco, the gunnery mark-ups and

The Festival of Santa Rosalia was held in Monterey Sunday, August 31, after 9 a.m. mass at San Carlos Church. A procession leading a white and yellow float on which the statue of Santa Rosalia, patron saint of fishermen, was displayed, filed through the streets of the city toward the wharf. There from a platform built for the occasion Father Leo Beacom recited the story of the Sea of Galilee and performed the official blessing of the fishing fleet. Rosary was then said by Father Mario Buttini of Santa Cruz. Following this the float was conducted by a couple of thousand parishioners back to the church, where a benediction was pronounced and the Blessed Sacrament celebrated.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED

On August 30, early in the afternoon, 17 volunteer firemen answered the signal and arrived at San Antonio and 11th in time to put out a grass fire before it had done much damage.

Two days later at noon a call for an ambulance came from the Big Sur State Park where Frank Halkett had sustained a stroke beside the swimming pool, in weather described as "burning hot." First aid was administered by a forest ranger before the Carmel Fire Department arrived. The sick man was then driven to Kimball Avenue in Seaside where his relatives were able to give him proper care.

Mrs. Betty MacIntosh, 51, died at a local hospital yesterday morning, after a brief illness. She had been living in Carmel since last June and is survived by her husband, David MacIntosh, and by a son, David L. and a daughter, Edith Betty MacIntosh, all of Dolores Street.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the T. A. Dorney Funeral parlors, Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating. Interment will take place in the Monterey Cemetery.

League Of Women Voters Complete Plans For Four New Study Groups

Arrangements for the new plan for group meetings and study of governmental problems were completed by the executive board of the League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula at a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Edmond Sullivan. The plan will carry out the purpose of the organization, to inform citizens about their government and to develop a sense of individual responsibility for securing good government, more efficiently than has heretofore been achieved. It aims moreover to secure active participation in discussion of public problems by all the members. The purpose of the discussion is to lead to action, such as writing to the congressmen, senators, or members of the legislature in support of or opposing measures proposed; giving information on public questions to other citizens; helping to build public opinion on matters of government policy.

The League membership will be divided into small neighborhood groups with a hostess or chairman to guide the discussion, and leaders in the four main fields to be studied during the year. Group meetings are to be held twice a month, with all groups coming together to pool their findings at the end of two months, after which they will take up a new field of investigation, so that the four subjects of study may be covered by all in eight months. The opening meeting and the annual meeting will bring the period of activity to ten months in the year. All groups will study a given subject at the same time.

The four fields of study and their discussion leaders are taxes, both state and national, with attention to the elimination of overlapping levies, with Mrs. Howard Clark; international relations including the use of atomic fission and promotion of support of the United Nations, with Mrs. Ferdinand Haasis; economic policies, both state and national, and study of governmental means of promoting full employment, with Mrs. Eben Whittlesey; and legislative questions, such as the working of the law-making bodies, reorganization of Congress, regulation of lobbies, changes in procedure to promote greater efficiency, with Mrs. Frances Ballard. The leaders will receive from the national League working kits including outlines for the study, bibliographies and magazine references and lists of authorities, with suggestions for individual research.

The neighborhood groups will meet at such time as each group shall decide and in a convenient place, usually in an afternoon, but it is hoped to form an evening group, in which men may also participate. So far four groups are planned, one in Carmel Valley, one in Monterey, and two in Carmel. Additional groups will be organized as need arises. The L. W. V. in this area is larger than the average in the United States, with 93 members at the close of last year, but in the large cities membership is very much higher and the group method for meetings and study has been followed for some time.

DISCS OVER AMERICA

The most amazing event in history is the appearance of unexplained discs over America. Their explanation is necessary to every Man and Woman in this country.

The amazing explanation involves not only the discs alone... but it answers the great and most potent of mysteries.

Why do anthropoid apes sit spellbound before two crossed sticks?

Why do children draw an arc one third of the way up a sheet of paper when confronted with the idea of death?

What is the meaning of the twenty-eight fires that struck at the exact center of the American population?

The answer to these questions is the most important information you have ever received. Send one dollar now for your copy of the survey, "Discs Over America."

YOUR heart is set, we'll say, on something really superfine.

You want smartness — a truly handsome appearance that does you proud in any crowd.

You want ability — a car that does things, and with effortless ease.

You want size — size for interior room and size for steady, level going and serene disregard for the roughness of the road.

You want fine finish — truly rich interiors in perfect taste with the unmistakable touch of quality in every detail.

Against this prescription we ask you to put the Buick Roadmaster — match it, if you will, against any other car regardless of price for all-round excellence.

We don't have to point out its smartness — you see that.

But did you know that under this bonnet is 144 horsepower of smooth Fireball power?

Have you sampled how its 4400 pounds and 18 feet of bigness — mounted as they are on four gentle coil springs — level the roads to ballroom smoothness?

Have you tried its light handling — tested its smooth, easy lift under your treadle foot — inspected the fine rich fabrics, the tasteful interior trim, the fittings executed with the precision of fine silver?

A fine thing to see, a wonderful thing to drive, the Roadmaster is indeed a prideful thing to own. We honestly believe that nowhere can you find such a perfect balance of superfine qualities — style, size, handling, ride and finish.

If your standards are high, your expectations great, come see us now about placing an order — with or without a car to trade.

Early-Day Painting May Be Seen At Carmel Mission

Sure enough, in the foreground of the picture we see the little group of padres and visiting dignitaries, all abustle with excitement and good-will, between two stiff lines of bored-looking Indians. In the middle distance are the thatched adobes of the mission compound, and beyond, a glimpse of Point Lobos and the tree-lined banks of the Carmel River. The former is somewhat exaggerated in size and inaccurate in outline—but, then, the drawing was made afterward from memory, so we should not be too critical. It shows, at least, that our now-notorious scenery did not fail to impress these early tourists.

On his departure from Monterey, La Perouse presented the drawing to the padres along with many other gifts, and it remained one of their valued possessions for many years. We next hear of it from Captain Frederick William Beechey of the Royal Navy, in his "Voyage to the Pacific and Beering's Strait," where he describes his visit in January, 1827. Says he:

"In the church is a drawing of the reception of La Perouse at the mission, executed on board the Astrolabe, by one of the officers of his squadron. I much wished to possess this valuable relic, with which, however, the padre was unwilling to part."

But only ten years later, in 1837, Captain Abel Du Petit-Thouars, another French visitor, wrote: "Until recently there could be seen in the church a picture which represented La Perouse arriving at the mission of San Carlos and the brilliant reception which was tendered him by all the mission; this picture disappeared at the time of the departure of the Spanish missionaries." That was the last heard of it for over a hundred years.

Harry Downie, who has supervised mission restoration since 1931, and carried on extensive research in this connection, has been able to throw some light on this mysterious disappearance. In 1833, as we know, Mexican friars from Zacatecas were sent to California to take charge of the northern missions, replacing the Spanish Franciscans. At this time Fr. Ramon Abella, the last of the Spanish missionaries at San Carlos, was transferred to San Luis Obispo. When he left he gave the drawing to Mrs. M. Ord, a daughter of Joe de la Guerra. In later years the picture disappeared from among Mrs. Ord's possessions. Perhaps we will never know how it got from her trunk to the Escorial in Spain, but that is where it was found some six or seven years ago by Henry R. Wagner of San Marino, California, an authority on Spanish history and author of numerous books and compilations. Thanks to Mr. Wagner, who presented this photographic reproduction of the drawing to Carmel Mission we can enjoy the picture today even though the original is ours no longer.

HEALTH WARNING

Because of the outbreak of two cases of tularemia in Monterey County, housewives are warned this week that the outbreak was caused by preparing tame rabbits for canning. Dr. Kenneth Sheriff, county health officer, reported that both tame and wild rabbits may carry the disease. Ordinary cooking renders the meat safe for consumption, but freezing or refrigeration does not.

Visitors To Los Padres Cautioned On Fire Hazard

Recreational facilities within those portions of Los Padres National Forest open to public use are being taxed to the limit with campers, hunters, and picnickers.

The opening of dove season on September 1, brought an increasing number of hunters to foothill areas immediately adjacent to forest lands.

Even though fire danger has moderated somewhat along coastal areas, the danger of fire is still critical in the interior with grass and brush tinder dry.

Man-caused fires this year have increased approximately 50 percent over this time last year, 21 fires have occurred, burning over 2600 acres of valuable watershed lands.

The utmost caution and cooperation in the prevention of fires is requested of all visitors to Los Padres National Forest over the coming weekend holiday period.

Thousands Attend Memorial Services At Carmel Mission

More than 3,000 pilgrims, local residents and visitors participated Sunday in the services held at the Carmel Mission to commemorate the 163rd anniversary of the death of Fr. Junipero Serra.

Pilgrims and clergymen, numbering over 1,000 came from the San Francisco Bay area by chartered bus. The ceremonies opened at noon with high mass conducted by the Rev. Clement Berich, Commissary Provincial of the West Coast for the Order of St. Francis.

A luncheon was held at Mission Ranch, and this was followed by the Memorial services at the Mission at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Owen Da Silva of the Malibu Beach Rest Home addressed the pilgrims and visitors, and following this a procession formed toward Fr. Serra's grave where Lady Antonia Field and the Rev. Michael O'Connell placed a wreath.

"Deep Valley" To Be At Carmel Theatre On Sunday

"Deep Valley," Dan Totheroh's play produced by Warner Brothers, will have a premier showing at the Carmel Theatre on Sunday evening, 7 o'clock, and will also run through Tuesday. The film, with a Big Sur background, stars Ida Lupino, Dane Clark and Wayne Morris.

A group of pioneer families from the Sur region, have been invited to be guests at the premier, by Frank Nash, theatre manager. Also present at the premier will be Jean Negulesco, director, and the author, Totheroh.

Another Big Sur film, "The Stranger," by Lillian Bos Ross, is now in production in Hollywood and will be released within the next few months.

Audubon Society Meets Tonight

The Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will hold its first business meeting of the season on Friday, September 5, at 7:30 p. m., in the lunch room of Sunset School. There will be discussion of the plans for the year and committee members will be named. Prospective members are invited to attend.

Yearly dues of $1.50 will be received by the treasurer, and members wishing preferential seating at the five colored-motion-picture-lectures will leave their reservations at this time. The cost to members and to the general public will be $2.40 for the entire series, and $1.20 for school children. Announcement of the complete program will be made in the Pine Cone before the October event.

Dr. Henry Hart Visits Here Before Leaving On Tour Of U. S.

When asked which of his books he favored, Dr. Hart answered, "A writer is likely to prefer his last, in the way that an audience usually likes best the last piece of music they have heard." His last is a story of the life and times of Marco Polo as reported by that Venetian adventurer. This book is now in its third printing and has appeared in 54 editions, in Gaelic and Swedish and Chinese as well as in the European languages. His book on Seven Hundred Chinese Proverbs is in its fifth printing now, and the Garden of Peonies has gone into three already. In spite of all this Dr. Hart claims he is not primarily a writer—in fact he collected objects of art for 14 years, and during the war was a Major in the Military Police and was special advisor in the Office of War Information, in which capacity he visited seventeen countries on diplomatic missions. He was even a censor for one year. You can see how impossible it is to tabulate this man.

Dr. Hart is setting out now on an eight-month tour of this country with a full schedule of banquet speeches which he will make before clubs of 300 to 600 members. He will be the Honors Convocation Lecturer at Grinnell College in October and later will talk before the Chemists Club in Boston on Chinese Drugs and Doctors, of all things. But he bristles at a conversational surprise, and explains quickly that all his forebears have been medical men and he himself had rare opportunity in China to learn the subject he will discuss on this special occasion.

But most of his lectures will be on Chinese Art and Sculpture, Countries in the Headlines (giving historical background in every case), or Great Writers and Their Books. Last year he spoke in 139 cities on the ancient literatures: Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Indian and Persian.

But in his spare time Dr. Hart enjoys his collection of 4500 classical records, and exhibits in many museums examples of his photography hobby: pictures of both machinery and landscapes, to mention only two phases of his interest.

Naturally, it is impossible to explain a character like this in the space available—so you will have to judge of him for yourself when, the last week in December, he will address Mrs. Clairmonte's class in literature, for he has been generous enough to promise to do this when he returns for a Christmas vacation. The date will be announced in the Pine Cone in time for you to make your plans.

—Glenn Clairmonte.

First Theatre Play Closes Tomorrow

"A Ward of the Golden Gate", directed and dramatized by Wilma Bott, which has been running throughout the summer so successfully at the First Theatre, Monterey, is going into its closing weekend. The "Ward" plays only tonight and Saturday night, the final curtain ringing down at 10:35 on September 6. On Sunday night the Theatre will be dark, given over to the "all-day and all-night" rehearsal of the new play.

With the close of the "Ward," two of the Theatre's leading Troupers, both of whom have played many hundreds of performances on the historic boards—Carmen Mercante and Jim Jensen—will be leaving for the winter. Carmen goes up to Sonoma to teach, and Jim goes to San Jose State, where he will use his "G. I." for further education.

"After Dark," old melodrama set in London on the Thames, will

Naomi Fletcher Joins Wayfarer Church Staff

Announcement is being made this week of the addition to the staff of the Church of the Wayfarer of Miss Naomi Fletcher. Well-known in Carmel where she has lived for several years, Miss Fletcher will begin her new work with the church on September 15.

She will be in the church office, serving as secretary and coordinator of religious education, work for which she is well suited by training and experience. A graduate of Iowa State College, she has done graduate work at the University of Minnesota, Mills College, Columbia University, and the University of California.

Most of Miss Fletcher's professional experience has been with national boards of the Northern Baptist Convention, beginning in New York where she served as a field missionary with the foreign-born. She worked with 37 nationalities, enlisting, training and placing workers with them, having more than 700 volunteer workers at one time in California alone. Later she served as an executive of the National Youth Board of the denomination in Chicago, preparing new materials and conducting conferences from Colorado to West Virginia. During this time she taught in more than 25 summer youth conferences from New York to California.

Leaving field work, Miss Fletcher became Director of Christian Education in the First Baptist Church of Oakland, a church of 1700 members, where she directed the activities of five youth groups and a Church School of 600. After four years in Oakland she went to Seattle where she was manager of the Baptist Book Store there, still serving on the faculty of youth conferences, holding conferences, and arranging book displays in the Pacific Northwest. She came to Carmel several years ago at the time of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Ansel Fletcher, and since then has been associated with a local business firm.

In announcing her appointment to the staff of the Church of the Wayfarer, the chairman of the executive committee of the church, Mr. Durbin Sayers has stated that the committee takes pleasure in this step in the growth and expansion of the church. With a trained experienced worker in the office, serving as secretary and religious education coordinator, the increasing demands of the church and community can be met as she works with the minister, Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, in the seven-day-a-week program of the church.

The County Fair Will Be The Thing On September 25

The Monterey County Fair will open on the morning of Thursday, September 25th, and will continue until Sunday night September 28. The beautiful Fair Grounds have been reconducted, for this is the first Fair since 1941.

The Fair will bring to the Peninsula farmers, ranchers, and stockmen from the counties of Monterey, San Luis Obispo, San Benito, Santa Cruz and Santa Clara.

Great interest is being shown by junior exhibitors who include the Four H clubs, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America. On the morning following the Fair a Fat Stock Sale will be held, which will enable merchants to bid for the fine stock shown by the young exhibitors.

The Monterey Merchants Committee of the Monterey Chamber of Commerce are planning complete decoration of the city of Monterey.

Local schools have reserved all of the space in the Education Building.

The Horse Show is open to adults and children. Both English and Western riding will be included. Dick Collins, the traditional manager of the Horse Show, is in charge. Applications for the box tickets are now being accepted.

The Monterey Peninsula Garden Club is in charge of the Flower Show under the direction of Mrs. F. L. Knudsen. The Art Building is being entirely rebuilt in order to provide for a fine display of paintings by local artists.

Individual displays of handwork, home canning and articles of interest to homemakers are welcome. Address all applications to the Monterey County Fair or telephone Monterey 5195.

THE LEDGER of LYING DOG by William George Weekley

A South Pacific Island, less than two miles long, was called Lying Dog because of its odd shape, no one had lived there except an old hermit. Then one day the good ship Quail burned off the shores of the Island. Most of the tough crew escaped and made their way to the Island along with young Henry Colby. The exciting story of what happened is told in Colby's ledger diary, with dates of almost a hundred years ago. The ledger tells a story as adventurous as your wildest dreams. It is filled with the excitement of survival and packed with details about Colby's dangerous and thrilling life. Then it ends on a note of mystery as unexpected as sudden shipwreck. 3.00

DEVILBIRDS—by John A. DeChant—foreword by Gen. A. A. Vandegrift

This is the stirring story of Marine Corps Aviation in World War II. It is not a critique or judgment in the armchair sense but rather a reportorial, well-documented account of what the Air Arm of the Corps did in supporting 55 amphibious landings, shooting down nearly 2400 Japanese planes and sinking some 900 enemy ships. A hundred thousand men served in Marine Aviation during the late war—this is their story accurately and authoritatively told. 4.00

No more of this!

Lights that are properly placed and switches that let you light your way ahead along dark stairs and hallways are good accident insurance in the home.

Avoid annoyances and possible serious personal injury by insisting the home you are remodeling or planning to build has Certified Adequate Wiring. Such wiring fits electrical convenience and safety to your home room by room.

Basically, Adequate Wiring means plenty of switches, plenty of light outlets connected to plenty of circuits of wire big enough to carry the electric load (at least size 12 wire or larger). It costs little more to have the perfect job of Certified Adequate Wiring. Insist upon it for your home.

University Women Hear Enlightening Talk On Current Radio Programs

"The air belongs to the American people, and they have the right to regulate its use in radio," said Mrs. Horace J. Cochrun of San Francisco, speaking to a score of members of the American Association of University Women of the Monterey Peninsula who met at the home of Mrs. John Gratiot on Thursday of last week to learn what can be done to improve the quality of radio programs. Mrs. Cochrun is director of radio listening research of the San Francisco Bay Branch of A.A.U.W., in a group that for ten years has been making studies of the radio programs offered to the American people, and their probable influence, especially upon children.

There are radios in nine out of ten homes, and adults average four hours a day listening to broadcasts, while children average 4.45 hours over the radio. There is no regulation by any government, of course; the Federal Communications Commission assigns wavelengths on the basis of the promised service to the public in order to prevent the chaotic conditions that prevailed twenty-five years ago when it was everybody for himself, on the air. The networks have powerful lobbies in Washington and at state capitals to prevent—or influence against—any regulatory laws. Such a lobby at Sacramento last spring defeated efforts by a number of organizations, the state university among them, to have a law passed establishing a state-owned broadcasting station which would have given desirable competition to the private companies and greatly reduced or eliminated interruptions by advertising. Such a station would give the public many desirable programs that cannot pay the high prices demanded by the networks, said Mrs. Cochrun.

But it was the effect upon children that was the major factor in stimulating the University women in the radio listening project, and their criticisms and suggestions have been welcomed by the broadcasting companies, though they were quick to publicize any commendation, but have not made known the unfavorable verdicts, according to the speaker. Control of news by one group is not desirable, as is the case when the only newspaper and the only radio station of an area belong to one company, even though the owners sincerely try to present an unbiased picture to the listeners. There is always the possibility of the company giving only one side of public problems.

Many persons are not capable of making a balanced judgment when they hear only one side of a question, as is the case when equal opportunity is not given, for example, to both management and labor to present their views; commentators often are influenced by sponsors to give a narrow view of a controversy; honest differences of opinion may be suppressed; actually thousands of persons listen only to rabble-rousers and get an entirely false idea about questions before the public. Consequently people must be alert to prevent the concentration of dissemination of news and opinion in a small group without competition.

On the other hand, a constructive attitude toward radio programs is not common enough. If members of the A.A.U.W., for example, would write a postcard to the station telling which programs they prefer, it would have an influence toward improvement. If the various branches would all "plug" one thing for a year, the networks would give attention to the requests. A good point would be to ask for more transcriptions of good evening programs to be repeated next day, as very often two or three excellent programs are given at the same time on different chains. Groups that work seriously at radio listening, and give their findings to the broadcasting companies, said Mrs. Cochrun, can influence the type of offerings on the air. People in Wisconsin have carried on an excellent system for a number of years of checking the services of the radio networks, including competition by a state-owned station.

Those who attended the meeting at Mrs. Gratiot's eagerly bought copies which Mrs. Cochrun brought of two reports by the Wisconsin Joint Committee for Better Radio Listening, giving suggestions from their own experience for those who want to carry on a campaign for better programs on the air. Radio listening will be one of the sections of study sponsored by the A.A.U.W. on the Peninsula this year, with Miss Eleanor Mary Henry of Carmel as chairman; date and place of meeting will be announced at the general meeting of the University Women on September 20.

Television Techniques, by Hoyland Bettinger (Harper and Brothers, 1947).

It was only after Hoyland Bettinger had been painting professionally for 25 years and had for 15 years been conducting two art schools, that he was inducted into the field of television, which is mounting in importance throughout the world. Having discovered that teaching the creative use of leisure is the most inspiring activity in life, and having included in the courses he gave 17 different techniques, pottery and photography as well as oils, watercolor, etc., he was evidently ready to appreciate the new opportunity for education and entertainment.

When he was appointed program manager of the General Electric Television Studio in Schenectady, New York, he was able to draw together the various lines of training he had been absorbing, and he found himself stressing the pictorial aspects of the new medium.

In his book he has made use of all his knowledge of the several approaches and has explained, in words and very agreeable pen sketches and photographs, the tools of the trade, composition and continuity, methods of writing, directing, producing, integration and lighting, so that it is now possible for the layman to acquire an understanding of the demands each television studio makes upon its staff. In San Francisco alone there are now six television stations, and the results being offered to the public are increasingly effective.

"The prime requisite for success in television program production," says Mr. Bettinger, "is an awareness of the medium's inherent personality . . . what it can do, what it does best, and where in its weaknesses lie. Its limitations as well as its great potentialities must be taken into full account."

"Stemming as it does from the stage, screen, and radio, television possesses many of the limitations and potentialities of all three. And yet it is greater than the sum of all of them, for in reality it is an extension of two of our senses — sight and hearing. Therein lies its greatest potential . . .

"Before any constructive thought can be given to television program techniques, a comprehensive study of the preferences and habits of the audience must be made. We must know where the potential audience is during broadcast hours, what they are doing, and what extent they will give (a) visual and (b) aural attention to the program. We must be familiar with their home routine and social habits. We must know how television is integrated into those habits."

He calls attention also to the fact that a picture is an arrangement of shapes, which in turn are made up of line, mass and form. "Our emotional reaction to shapes is very pronounced. We react differently to the huge, bulky shape than we do, let us say, to the petite blonde. It is on the known reaction to shapes, coupled with other psychological factors, that we compose pictures to produce definite—and predictable—responses on the part of the audience."

He then goes on to delineate carefully the way in which the television manager may achieve the results he desires to present to his particular public at any particular time.

"In developing video techniques that will capture and hold the attention of the audience, imagination and creative expression should be leavened with logic and practicality, for it is well to keep in mind that the audience is not interested in technique for technique's sake. Furthermore, where technique becomes tricky and self-assertive, attention is directed toward the trick and away from the story of subject matter."

That of course is one of the fundamental rules of any work, and here is another which can be applied in any art:

"Action is enriched by reaction. The thing that makes action interesting is either what

A FREE COMMUNE

*A little wood is a metropolis
Of industries and stores and busy streets
And paid for homes, and each freeholder is
A bread-winner, who earns the food he eats.*

*Though here is a polyglot populace
Of foreign ways, strange customs, many tongues,
No constables are needed in this place
To keep the peace or right the peoples' wrongs:*

*A free commune where folk meet without hate,
Where every resident at his own will Performs his equal duties (one's estate
No better than the other's) for the fill
Of his own bin, robbing no townsman nor Envyng him: intent on his own chore.*

—ALEX R. SCHMIDT.

THE LONG SEA

*The long sea sounds night-cymbals, down a sweep
Of long stones, pulled from deep-floored fishing grounds;
Over the land's end, clashing heap on heap,*

The long sea sounds.

*High-climbing water fills straight waves, and rounds
Tall hoods to strike, then sucks slow backward seep
To hidden wells, where one rolled mass rebounds.*

*Loud on the night time ear, half-closed, asleep,
With all the flood no dam-built brake impounds,
Winding huge rhythms with each moon-curved leap,*

The long sea sounds.

—JENNETTE H. YEATMAN.

GRAY ANTELOPES

*In from the western water-plain
Speed the gray antelopes of rain—
Clattering hoofs of wind-whipped clouds
Clearing the city streets of crowds.
They leap from tree to house to ground,
And on the eaves their small feet pound;
While long-dry earth is plowed for seed
That greens the trail of their stampede.*

—MARCUS Z. LYTLE.

THE DOUBT

*I heard low converse broken
And footsteps softly go
But whether kindly spoken
By friend, I do not know
Or if it was some other
Who spoke a word unkind
Or the unfriendly brother
Who whispers in my mind.*

—J. S. MOONEY.

Days Before Yesterday

On Saturday, July 14, 1923, the Pine Cone front page story that startled the townspeople began:

"Circus coming! . . . The greatest aggregation of phenomenal bareback riders, gymnasts, acrobats and clowns ever gathered under one big, flapping canvass will soon be in Carmel—most of them are already in Carmel—and most of them don't know they're to be it."

"It is the Arts and Crafts Circus . . . parade at two in the afternoon—a glittering, gaudy pageant of gaily caparisoned horses and brightly clad men and beautiful women, with all the animals in their cages. Who are the animals? Wait till their names are printed, after the committees select them."

"Then the main show under the big top on City Square . . . Nothing to equal it has ever before been attempted . . ."

The build-up continued in each issue of the Pine Cone, and on July 28, 1923, a long front page column worked up further enthusiasm:

"The Sir-Cuss will be real low-brow stuff. It'll just suit Father and Brother and Cousin Jack, so bring them along. Freud and Ibsen have been packed away carefully on the top shelf of the pantry and the artists and writers are studying up on the latest fashions in clown suits. They tell me that DeNeale Morgan will give a sample of bareback riding and that W. P. Silva, George Seideneck and William Watts will glare at you through the bars of the lions' cages—at so much a glare . . . There will be gypsy fortune tellers, side shows of the Carmel freaks, and living statuary in which our own beautiful Evangeline Mosher will give her celebrated impersonation of the Hula-hula dancer. Perry Newberry, writer of mystery stories, will impersonate the human calliope; Tom Reardon will once more play the front legs of the elephant (applications considered for the hind legs), and many of us will make monkeys of ourselves."

"Mrs. Phil K. Gordon is the originator of the affair . . . It's going to be a great day for the nuts."

By August 4, 1923, the Pine Cone was able to announce: Local Sir-Cuss Taking Form.

"Jo Mora and Jack Jordan are issuing an open challenge for a potato race on the beach at 11 o'clock on Sir-Cuss Day."

"Gifts of fog horns, buzz saws and other hideous noise-makers will be appreciated by Perry Newberry, the human calliope."

"Any Carmel freak not yet assigned to side show, please report, stating age, color or previous condition of servitude."

And the great day arrived, August 18, 1923, so the Pine Cone exhorted:

"Get on your circus togs and hie yourself up town at one o'clock today to see the grand balloon ascension, which will be immediately followed by the Sir-Cuss parade."

"Gus England, riding at the head, will be a thing of beauty and Hal Bragg, an organ grinder, a joy forever. Hal has secured a real little monkey to solicit pennies in return for his lugubrious caterwaulings."

"Following our right noble chief of police will be the marshals of the day—Mayor William T. Kibbler, Argyll Campbell and John B. Jordan, George Pollak, Harvey E. Russell, Frederick Godwin, Phil Wilson, Sr., Emil Passailaigue and George Kegg."

"Buffalo Bill, having been finally located, finds he can't be here, so he's picked on Joe Hand as a substitute. Is it quite fitting that Mr. Hand should be handed this honor. Many years ago he carried the mail by pony express from Carson, Nevada, to Ragtown, California . . ."

"Paul Mays, George Kegg and Daniel W. Willard have been doing a new brand of applied art these days. They are applying color to circus wagons . . . gayly painted bars and rainbow-hued platforms for the animals to glare from. Harrison Godwin and Albert Van Houtte are to be the

Scout Trust Fund Established Here

A group of men vitally interested in the welfare of all boys in the counties of Monterey, San Benito, and Santa Cruz, the territory covered by the Monterey Bay Area Council, Incorporated, Boy Scouts of America, have set up a trust fund. The trustees are F. E. Dayton, Salinas; Judge M. T. Dooling, Hollister; Harvey W. Edmund, Santa Cruz; Carmel Martin, Monterey; and Harry M. Parker, Watsonville.

In a brochure, now available for anyone interested, forms of gifts, trusts, and bequests are outlined. The story of local Scouting and the scope of its work are clearly covered. The main objective of the fund is explained in the foreword, signed by the trustees:

"Society owes youth a guaranteed future!

"A community can lay its foundation in the form of monuments, buildings, and great industrial enterprises. These can be destroyed in a few seconds by an Act of God.

"Or, it can perpetuate an idea, that will remain as long as the human race.

"The Boy Scout program is an idea. It represents a tested plan to develop the character and citizenship of the boys of today who will be the men of tomorrow. It will live through the ages!

"To assure that this idea will be perpetuated locally, the Monterey Bay Area Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, has established a trust fund. The purpose of this fund is to insure the continued development of the Scout program in this area and for such projects as deemed necessary by the Council's Executive Board.

"This statement is presented in the hope that it will serve as a means for personal study by civic, social, and religious-minded men and women of every class, race, and creed, confident that they will find in Scouting an avenue to serve humanity in a more effective way."

Further information may be obtained from the trustees named above or members of a special trust fund committee: O. W. Irwin, Carmel; Sheldon L. Gilmer, Pacific Grove; E. H. Traxler, Monterey; Walter Tavernetti, Salinas; Herman Smith, Alisal; J. B. Larsen, King City; L. G. Barrett, Hollister; Verne Jones, Watsonville; Walter Manwaring, Santa Cruz.

It is a capably written book, in excellent style, and while clearly understood it is at the same time designed with a sense of suspense, it may be for many years considered the basic work on the subject.

Wedding At Wayfarer

In a lovely afternoon wedding ceremony, at the Church of the Wayfarer, Miss June Nicolaisen of San Francisco became the bride of Mr. John Spencer Montague of San Francisco and Carmel, on Saturday, August 30, Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating.

The bride was attired in a frock of blue and silver lame, with the new long hem-line, and her hat was of pale blue feathers with tiny clusters of pale pink roses holding a pink veil. Her shoulder corsage was white orchids and stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her brother, Jimmy Nicolaisen of San Francisco. Mrs. Gerald J. Payne, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gray tulle, with a corsage of deep yellow begonias, the same hue as her smart hat.

Mrs. Siegrid Nicolaisen, mother of the bride, chose an afternoon gown of watermelon pink, with matching hat, and a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. John Edwin Montague, mother of the groom, was charming in an exquisite dressmaker suit of dusty rose, accented by a corsage of talisman yellow begonias and lilies of the valley. The groom is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwin Montague of Carmel. He attended schools here and in Texas, and went to the University of California in Berkeley.

Best man was Mr. Art Harris of San Francisco, who is associated with the Montague brothers, John and Don, in the San Francisco firm of Montague-Harris and Company.

After the double ring ceremony, an informal reception was held at the Carmel Art Association Galleries, of which Mrs. Montague, mother of the groom, is curator, and where the senior Montagues have an apartment. The traditional wedding cake and punch were served, and the newlyweds received congratulations.

The table was decorated with an Italian openwork cloth, over pale yellow, and arrangements of white and yellow stock in silver containers, alternated with silver candelabra, holding pale yellow tapers. Tiny nosegays of baby roses, with streamers of pale yellow and jade, completed the color motif.

Other members of the bride's family who arrived from San Francisco to attend the wedding were her sister, Miss Marguerite Nicolaisen, her brothers, Stanley and Robert Nicolaisen, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Laura Nicolaisen. From Piedmont, came Terry Jean and Montague Upshaw, niece and nephew of the groom and the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Upshaw. Don Montague, brother of the groom, was also present.

The new Mrs. Montague attended Mission High School in San Francisco and was a vocal student of Gladys Steele in the Bay City.

The reception concluded with songs in Norwegian, by the bride and Norwegian Folk Dances were enjoyed by the guests, with Mrs. Laura Nicolaisen at the piano. The newlyweds are spending their honeymoon in Carmel Valley and will return to San Francisco in two weeks to establish their residence.

Farewell To Mrs. Goddard

Mrs. W. H. Hamilton entertained Mrs. Ella Goddard and a group of her friends last week prior to Mrs. Goddard's departure for New Zealand. Guests were Miss Agnes Knight and her friend Miss Edna F. Bagley of Pasadena, Miss Agnes Williston, Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, Miss Charlotte Betts and Mrs. Ruth Bixler.

Wayfarer Reception

Guests to be honored at a reception given by the Church of the Wayfarer on Friday evening, September 12th will be Bishop and Mrs. James Chamberlain Baker. He is the president of the International Missionary Council, whose sessions recently closed in Canada, successor to John R. Mott.

The affair to be held in the home of Mrs. Thomas F. Baxter at San Antonio and Eighth, will be under the direction of the executive committee of the church. Those in the receiving line will include the minister of the church, Dr. K. Fillmore Gray and Mrs. Gray; the chairman of the executive committee, Durbin Sayers, and Mrs. Sayers; the chairman of the trustees, Howard E. Timbers, and Mrs. Timbers; the president of the women's auxiliary, Mrs. Carmalita Benson; and the honored guests.

Girl For The Wolters

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wolters of Carmel Valley are parents of a baby girl born Monday, September First, at the Community Hospital. She weighed eight and one half pounds. Arrival of the baby is causing a lot of excitement in the Valley, which is harboring all the agitated grandparents. The mother is the daughter of Mrs. Marion Ernst Whitcomb and Byington Ford, and father, Dean is the son of Joe Wolters. He is a Navy veteran, now attending Davis Agricultural College.

Britishers Entertained

Commander J. R. B. Longden and his officers on the H.M.S. Sparrow were entertained Sunday evening at a buffet supper at the Valley home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton. The night was unbelievably lovely with a full moon rising after a spectacular sunset. Two fires blazed on the terrace and another in the candle-lit living room. Individual tables on the terrace where supper was served, were covered with flamingo pink and lighted by high hurricane lamps with flamingo pink candles. Punch was served from a large hand-carved bowl surrounded by an arrangement of fruits. In the center of the bowl was a container filled with ice, fruits and leaves all done with Mrs. Stanton's practiced hand. Following supper, there was dancing in the living room and on the terrace and with Joanne Sage at the piano a group sang songs.

Assisting Mrs. Stanton were Pamela Dormody, Sheila Moore, Sue and Joan Dekker, Gerry Shephard, Kitten Goodfellow, Dolly Lowell, Jacqueline Work, Sylvia Thorne, Barbara Betts, Mimi Townsend and Jane Mills.

Guests included Mrs. Kathryn Dyson-Taylor of London with her father, Ernest W. She chose for her wedding gown a grey crepe afternoon frock, a black hat and carried white orchids. Janice Hatton, sister of the bride was her only attendant. She also wore grey with a grey hat and a corsage of gardenias. Dr. W. I. Peterson served as best man and following the wedding, a reception was held at his home in the hills above Burlingame. After a short stay in San Francisco, the newlyweds will go to Fallen Leaf, where they will occupy the summer home of Judge and Mrs. Henry Jorgensen of Salinas. NOW I WEAR A SIZE 14 and look good!

I used to have to buy a size 16, and sometimes an 18, and I always envied the woman who could wear the cute styles in the smaller sizes. Thanks to the Stauffer System reducing courses, I have lost enough weight, and in the right places too, so that I can take my pick of the size 14 clothes and everyone tells me how good they look.

MARY and LOUISE SARGENT may be found by their golfing friends in P. NESBITT'S ARTIST WORKSHOP in the Golden Bough Court on Ocean Avenue. The Sargents, in addition to their hand-made dresses, have an exclusive line of handicrafts from the Adobe Gift Shop in Los Gatos, including eye-lashed pig banks, cinnamon donkeys and linen napkins hand-blocked with the sort of beasts that haunt an alcoholic fog as well as more decorous flowers.

The linen books for children, in BILL'S BOOK AND CARD SHOP on Sixth and Dolores, may be looked at, chewed, or dumped in the washing machine—all without damage to either book or child. The durable linen on which they're printed should outlast the child, or at least his more destructive years. You'll find the Golden Books there, too, including the dictionary and encyclopedia for children. The books of stories illustrated with Masha's wide-eyed children are pleasing, and no child should grow up without Christopher Robin, whom A. A. Milne thinks he created.

Whether you're a golfer, a member of the gallery or a mere Carmelite eeking the last bit of sun out of summer the Dorothy Gray sunburn cream and tanning oil at FORTIER'S should interest you. The sunburn cream protects the skin from the sun, preventing a tan or burn if two coats of the cream are applied. The tanning oil contains a filtering agent in a softening vegetable oil and not only assists your skin to tan evenly but also helps to keep the texture of the skin fine and soft. Dorothy Gray's cold cream soap is also good for skins that have to face much weather. The oil base of the soap protects and softens the skin, and the soap lathers well in hard water.

Someone has finally given due regard to children's socks and at last socks that are knit to fit—and not just knit and then stretched to shape—may be bought. These socks, made to fit children's feet, are the Revelry Socks and you may buy them at THE STOCKING SHOP in the Golden Bough Court on Ocean Avenue. The toes are knit to be wide and comfortable, the instep is shaped and the heel reinforced, and the colors of the socks are beautiful. The tops are turn down cuffs decorated with dogs or flowers of conventional designs. These socks cost 50c and they come in sizes 5 to 8½, which will carry a child practically from the cradle to junior high school.

At THE HOUSE OF HANSEL AND GRETEL on Ocean Avenue you'll find candy for both teachers and golfers—who are the important people this week. For carrying to a new teacher we recommend peppermint pinwheels. For pleasing golfers energy sticklets might be nice to carry around the course to combat moments of fatigue. You'd doubtless not carry the shop's two dollar summer surprise around the course, but you could with no ill effects, because this box of candy is made entirely of delicacies that will not be hurt by heat.

Look in THE CARMEL DRESS SHOP on Ocean at Dolores for those classic and becoming dresses to be worn practically anywhere during the day, which may be bought at THE CARMEL DRESS SHOP at a surprisingly low price. This group of dresses, which includes gabardines, rayons, flannels and woollens, sells for $10.95 to $27.95. The styles are delightful and the sizes include large ones. There's a beauty of a tailored dress in Skipper Blue gabardine, and a dress in gray, white and red plaid pure wool crepe with a semi-circular skirt—for only $19.95 which is a fine bargain. You'll wear dresses of this sort, tailored and semi-tailored, all year round in Carmel and finding them at such a reasonable price is unusual.

RENJIM'S FRUIT BOWL is the newest offering in RENJIM'S ICE CREAM PARLOUR on San Carlos between Fifth and Sixth. For fifty cents you may have a large bowl of such fruit as strawberries, dates, pears, bananas, cantaloupe and other fruit topped with cottage cheese. RENJIM'S also has home-made cakes, either whole or by the piece, and there is always the cheesecakes flown daily from Los Angeles, and delicious with coffee at any hour of the day. You may place your order for plain or fancy ice cream and RENJIM'S will deliver it for you.

St. John's Chapel Del Monte

The Rev. Theodore Bell
Chaplain

St. John's Chapel is a beautiful little church nestling in a grove of giant oak trees. Men and women from many lands have found it to be a place apart. It may be that you also will find its atmosphere congenial to the spiritual life. The Chapel is open all day long. Those who seek in its stillness to grow more conscious of God's presence do not go unrewarded. Sunday services at eight and eleven a.m. The Chapel is close to Hotel Del Monte.

The Last Bomb Shown At Sunset

The first fall event of the Carmel Adult School was held Wednesday evening when The Last Bomb, technicolor sound picture of the air force in the South Pacific, was shown in the Sunset Auditorium. Charles Dawson, the new principal of the Adult School, presented Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte who made a few introductory remarks.

The audience was particularly appreciative of Frank Lloyd's courtesy in lending this 16 mm. film, one of the results of his tour of duty with the Army which placed his experience as a moving picture producer at the disposal of this country. Mr. Lloyd is now ranching in Carmel Valley, supposedly preparing to retire, but he still shuttles back and forth from Hollywood because of projects he can not yet relinquish.

guard, Paul Warner, sharp-shooting quarterback, Lew McCreery, 165 pound fullback, and Bob Barry, best defensive back on the squad last season. Phil Wettengel, letterman at an end position, will forego football in order to avoid injury to a tender knee. In addition to the varsity lettermen, there are 18 boys returning who earned their blocks on the limited team. They are: Mike Monahan, Bob Russell, Dick Weer, and Ted Lafleur, ends; Les Bracisco, Basil Allaire, Floyd Adams, and Garry Shaw, tackles; Elton Clark, Frank Richey, Tom Corley, and Howard DeAmaral, guards; Curtis Gorham, Frank Timmins, centers; Tom Handley, Dick Gargiulo, and Herman Menezes, halfbacks; Nelson Byers, quarterback; Dan Holmes, fullback. Two transfers with football experience are: Bill Johnson, from Lindsey High School, a 170 pound end, and Jim Hare, from Montezuma School, a boy who should develop into a fine quarterback. Offering plenty of competition for the award-winners will be: Pete Berg, Joe Diekemper, Lee Laugenour, Harry Watson, Ken Wightman, Dick Sumner, Mitchell Steenhoudt, John Monroe, Thor Rasmussen, Bernie Adams, Jack Galloway, Chuck Roeth, Pierre Boutet, John Blinks, Bill Daniels, Mike McClure, Steve Whitaker, Murray Wight, Legare McNeill, Al Green, Jim Moran, and Neils Reimers.

would be allowed in the order they were received, if the plans of any group followed Carmel and Forest Theatre traditions.

Also at the August meeting, individual requests from both Herbert Heron and Edward Kuster were held over. Both had asked for specific dates through June, July and August of next year for planned productions. While the dates did not conflict, the opinion was stated by Councilman Donald Craig and Allen Knight that if the requests were granted, the theater would be unavailable to any other group during the summer months. Mr. Kuster and Mr. Heron presented their schedules, and with rehearsals and time for building sets, as well as the plays themselves, the theater would then be completely tied up.

"This means," said Craig, "that such a worthwhile production as the recent Distant Drums by Totheroh would not be seen, and if children's plays were revived it would be impossible to present them."

Both Kuster and Heron were commended for the fine work they have done in the theater here. Their requests will be held over until the March meeting in 1948, and they will then be allowed preference at that time.

A recommendation from the Planning Commission that overhead utility lines on a portion of Dolores street be eliminated and underground lines substituted will be referred to the local public utilities companies. Another request that consideration be given the construction of footpaths through Carmel instead of regular sidewalks was sent back to the group with the request that a more detailed survey and report be brought back to the council.

Loading zone and reserved space reservation requests from Pine Inn, Normandy Apartments and a tearoom on Lincoln, will be studied by the council as a whole and a report will be made at the October meeting.

Tree applications from Henry Jurs and Mrs. Morris Wild were referred to Street Superintendent Bill Askew.

Other matters taken up were: acceptance of a survey by the Board of Fire Underwriters for study; further study of a proposal to extend the boundaries of Fire Zone 2; purchase of automatic fire extinguishers for the city hall at a cost of $144; final reading of ordinances concerning full-time building inspector and car allowances; first reading fixing salaries of the chief of police and street superintendent and rejection of the bid of $700 for the police patrol car by Colin Kuster.

In closing the meeting, Mayor Fred Godwin commended the resident who has planted the beautiful bed of cinerarias on Ocean avenue. The meeting, scheduled for 7:45, was held up for half an hour due to the tardiness of the mayor.

Carmel Man Named On Club Council

Thomas E. May of Carmel, a representative of the New York Life Insurance Company, has been named a member of the Nylic Top Club Council, it has been announced by Dudley Dowell, vice president of the company.

The Nylic Top Club Council is an organization of the leading members of New York Life's field force of more than 5,600 agents from throughout the United States and Canada. Mr. May will attend an educational conference of the Top Club Council September 2-6 at which Home Office staff members of New York Life will discuss recent changes in the life insurance business.

FLYING SAUCER?

A number of friends attending a champagne party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Greene reported seeing a flying saucer, falling in an arc toward the sunset and into the water, north of Pt. Lobos and south of Carmel Point, on Sunday, August 31, shortly after 6:30 p. m.

The daylight was said to be too strong for the sighting of falling stars and the color of the fire ballooning eastward from the object was white, giving the impression it emitted from a piece of metal. It was silhouetted against the mountains and seemed to move in a slower tempo than falling stars do, in spite of its nearness to the earth. The light appeared to have been extinguished before it touched the water.

Lions Club Hears Talk By Dr. Mitchell

Dr. Stuart Mitchell, Superintendent of Carmel Unified School District, addressed the Carmel Lions Club at their Tuesday dinner meeting at the Mission Ranch. He exhibited his own color motion pictures of the teaching methods he inaugurated at Westwood during the last few years, and delighted the Lions with scenes of spring, autumn and winter at Mt. Lassen. The most enjoyable of his pictures, however, were those showing the Chico High School ski team on a four-day trip during which they slept in snow caves.

Next week's meeting of the Lions Club will consist of a barbecue and swimming party at Bob Weaver's country estate at Robles del Rio.

Holiday Magazine Features Golf Course

The October issue of Holiday will carry a half page ad by the California Mission Trails which features the 18th hole of the Pebble Beach Golf Course, shown in color. Jim Southwell, Jr., the Field Representative, speaking for the 165 members on the Peninsula, reported also that the August issue of Ladies Home Journal carried one of the 2000 articles published this year on the beauties of the Coast from Los Angeles to San Francisco. He is enthusiastic about the 16-mm. film soon to be released to schools and clubs throughout the country, and other material which has been distributed to 1400 travel bureaus and auto clubs.

Jim Southwell will be remembered as the author of Tales of a Tanker and Bravo El Toro, two articles which appeared in the Pine Cone while he was in the service.
